AMERICAN WATER

American Water's headquarters in Camden, N.J., honoring Pride Month in June.

WE ARE BEAUTIFULLY DIFFERENT

At American Water, we regularly reflect on our values and our culture. We're all different, and having that diversity across our organization makes us a great company. We're strong because we have different ideas, viewpoints, experiences, and backgrounds. Most importantly, we embrace and expect one another to respect and value those differences.

We believe that ID&E are vital elements to our success. Creating an environment where everyone can bring their whole selves to work is essential for the emotional safety of our employees. We are more successful when our workforce reflects the communities that we serve. We have come a long way, and we know there is more work to do.

Building open and respectful dialogue, listening to different perspectives, and learning from one another is not always easy. We are committed to using our collective voices to continue to get better at building a truly inclusive work environment.

At American Water, we say "Include Yourself" because employee engagement is essential in creating a workplace where everyone feels safe, included, and treated with respect and dignity. "Include Yourself" is about empowering employees to contribute and participate in the culture we aim to create and maintain - one that is beautifully different.

OVERALL AMERICAN WATER DIVERSITY

American Water has a strong commitment to employee inclusion, diversity and equity so that we reflect the customers and communities we serve. The data below represents the diversity of our workforce through voluntary employee self-identification.

American Water's fiscal year 2021 numbers, as compared to 2020 data, are impacted by a smaller workforce population due to the sale of Homeowner Services and New York American Water. As a result of the impact of the sales, our year-over-year data shows a slight decrease in the diversity of our overall workforce, female population, and ethnic/racial diversity population. Had the sale not occurred, the diversity of our overall workforce, female population, and ethnic/racial diversity population would have stayed relatively flat or exhibited a slight increase. Our disability, military vets, military spouse, and LGBTQ+ populations increased slightly with or without the sale.

We acknowledge we have work to do and are committed to continuing and improving our efforts in the coming year and beyond. Since December 2021, American Water has continued to hire diverse talent across the organization, including at the executive levels. We are pleased to report that as of April 1, 2022, the ethnic and racial diversity of our executive leadership team has increased. Going forward, our most recent workforce diversity data can be found on DiversityatAW.com and will be updated quarterly. American Water also established 2022 targets related to increasing women and ethnic and racial diversity in management roles and will report on our progress at year-end.

DIVERSITY METRICS: WOMEN

We recognize the benefits of increasing our female representation in the workforce to better reflect the customers and communities that we serve. We are committed to closing the gender gap. Our recruitment and retention strategies include a holistic view of the areas that can have the greatest impact: evaluating the employee value proposition, auditing internal processes for inclusion, updating our job descriptions to be gender-neutral and supporting authentic leadership to improve women's representation in leadership roles.

Additionally, achieving and maintaining gender parity and diversity at the Board level is important for the company. As of April 1, 2022, the American Water Board was 70% diverse, which is defined as ethnically or racially diverse, female, veteran, or an individual with a disability, and all based on voluntary self-identification. Going forward, this data can be found on DiversityatAW.com, and will be updated quarterly.

DIVERSITY METRICS: ETHNICITY AND RACE

American Water knows that diversity across our company will create stronger teams, better ideas, innovative ways of doing our work, long-term sustainability, and, ultimately, an organization that provides the best service to our customers. Since 2017, we have had a focused ID&E recruitment strategy with annual goals to improve diversity across the company. We leverage our ID&E Executive Council, a robust employee referral program, and ID&E Champion Network to identify diverse talent during the recruitment process. We also engage with Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) and Hispanic Serving Institutions to increase our diverse talent candidate pool.

Our Employee Business Resource Groups (EBRGs) also focus on attracting diverse talent to our company. One example - Together We Stand, our Black and African American EBRG, served as company representatives at the National HBCU Week Career and Recruitment Fair. This group of employees also holds virtual learning sessions to assist employees with career growth and development.

SELF-ID AND EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY DATA

Employees at American Water are educated on voluntary self-ID and the ability it provides for workforce diversity transparency. During the year, we asked employees to voluntarily self-identify in the categories of gender, ethnicity, race, military/veteran status, disability, sexual orientation, and military spouse. Understanding our workforce helps us to better recognize the unique skill sets, experiences, and perspectives shaping our culture, as well as providing support to the addition of benefits, programs, and resources to meet our employees' needs.

Self-identification is the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) preferred method of confirming race, ethnicity, and sex information for the EEO-1 Report*.

WHAT IS AN EEO-1 REPORT?

Since 1966, the EEOC has required eligible employers to submit workforce demographic data on an annual basis. All private employers that are covered by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. 2000e, et. seq., as amended (Title VII) and that have 100 or more employees are required to file the EEO-1 Component 1 Report. In addition, the U.S. Department of Labor's Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) regulations require certain federal contractors to file the EEO-1 Component 1 Report if they have 50 or more employees and are not exempt as provided for by 41 CFR 60-1.5.

Employers meeting the reporting thresholds have a legal obligation to submit annual workforce demographic data on their employees by race/ethnicity, sex, and job category. The data include seven race/ethnicity categories and 10 job categories. EEO-1 Component 1 data are used by the EEOC to investigate charges of employment discrimination against employers and to provide information about the employment status of minorities and women.

*EEOC's terminology

AMERICAN WATER IS COMMITTED TO FAIR PAY

In accordance with best practices, American Water audits both pay gaps and pay equity on an annual basis. We use the information from these audits to address inequalities identified and update processes to allow for equal pay, development, and advancement opportunities for all employees. The findings of these audits are reviewed annually with our Board of Directors and Executive Leadership Team, along with a plan of action to close identified gaps.

We believe it is crucial to help ensure equal pay for equal work, just as importantly, to help ensure all employees have equal opportunities to develop.

We know we need to increase the representation of female and ethnically/racially diverse employees in higher-paying roles to close our pay gaps. Working across the business, we continue to look for ways to improve our programs to attract, reward, retain, and develop a diverse employee population.

Here are some steps we took in 2021:

- Implemented a process where the hiring manager and talent acquisition set a narrow range for position's starting rate before the successful candidate is identified. We set a range based on the position, not the person, which does not consider a candidate's salary expectations. This creates a more consistent and fair approach to starting rates for new hires and promotions.
- Worked to help ensure job titles are gender-neutral to encourage women to apply for roles that are traditionally male-dominated.
- Began job description review, focused on helping ensure requirements are not too restrictive, which could discourage diversity in the pool of candidates who apply.

A LOOK AT 2021 EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT

The Employee Net Promoter Score (eNPS) allows employers to measure and get a snapshot of employees' willingness to be ambassadors for the company by advocating employment.* This score is determined from our annual employee survey. In 2021, 4,912 employees (70%) completed our Culture Survey. Our 2021 eNPS was 29.0, a decline year-over-year and attributable to a blend of in office and remote working arrangements caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Based on responses to the question "On a scale of 0-10, how likely are you to recommend American Water as a place to work?" employees are segmented into Promoters, Passives, and Detractors.

2021 TOTAL COMPANY EMPLOYEE NET PROMOTER SCORE

- 2021 Total Company Employee Net Promoter Score was 29.0
- 2020 Total Company Employee Net Promoter Score was 40.6
- 2019 Total Company Employee Net Promoter Score was 26.0
